Service very friendly if a bit slow. We ordered poppadoms and 4 arrived, 1 fresh and 3 clearly refried from the night before as they were orange. These were replaced by some from the night before that were not refried, just a bit stale. I started with Lamb Tikka which was excellent, The MCC had onion bhajis which were good. We also ordered a shish kebab which was dry and inedible (we complained and were not charged for it). My main was North Indian Chilli Garlic Chicken which seemed to come without chilli, far too mild for me but flavours were good. The MCC had Lamb Rogan Josh, vindaloo hot which was very good if a bit of a ring burner! Certainly worth a visit if in Lichfield.
